- Opportunities Identified Through Multifaceted Investigation Techniques and Resources
- Cross Referencing with Litigation Databases and Social Media for Detailed Investigations
- An "Event" Based Approach Results in Less Noise for Plan Participants
- The Industry's Most Certified Subrogation Recovery Professionals

Overpayment Recoupment

Regardless of the cause, excess payments are pursued by overpayment recovery specialists. A team dedicated to recovering funds from providers understands the intricacies of the refund recoupment process, working towards unrivaled results.

Class Actions, Toxic Tort & Product Recalls

Some opportunities are less obvious than others. Superior subrogation results are attributed to identification of more recovery opportunities and maximization of the funds recovered in each case. We always strive to produce ever improving results by innovating, and focusing on both our knowledge and technology. Keeping in-line with this philosophy, claims are now run through a second proprietary system to specifically identify instances where a participant utilized medication, products, or was exposed to toxic substances, that are now featured in some form of class action, recall, or litigation – presenting opportunities to recoup funds for the plan.

Litigation & Attorney Retention

There are times when even the most skilled claims recovery specialists cannot secure reimbursement. In those instances where litigation is absolutely necessary to recoup funds, options are presented and The Phia Group spearheads efforts to secure legal representation for their benefit plan client in the proper jurisdiction and venue. No cost is incurred without first obtaining plan approval, and The Phia Group accesses the nation's most impressive network of subrogation litigators at the best possible rates.
